

WITCHDOCTOR- Lyrics

Ey! What a day what a day.

Chorus:

When I woke up this morning, I was feeling kind of strange

So I went to see the doctor who prescribed me to change.

She said:

Vers 1:

Play the reggae music, do the reggae music. try some new shit. all you gotta do is let it flow and spit them lyrics groovy.

you already know you are just too afraid to loose control.

according to agnostic front you gotta gotta gotta go. you gotta go where you come from back to the town where you were born, back to the place where all began, this is where you start again. Where you learned to play the game, you must go to rearrange.

Chorus 2:

I left the doctor. And suddenly it was clear. A fu-fu-funky groovin guitar that just won't disapear. And damn it keeps me goin', hits exactly my flow. Yes I heard it before, this player I know, so I said:

Vers 2:

play the funky music. gimme funky music. i can use it. all you gotta do is hit the strings to get my body movin'. I can move in. We can do it! Keep it flowin' like its fluid. all we gotta do is hit the record and we distribute it. you are chosen I'm committed we are the unaccredited. highly underrated now we gotta get in where we fit in. come and join my pop out. you must rock out!

Chorus 3:

so it was said and so was it done. now we're currently flowin' down the trail of the song. yeah we're drifting along back to where we belong. so thanks to the doctor the strange feeling is gone.

O-Ton Lee Scratch Perry: "Some people call it reggae or raggamuffin and this.. but I call it heartbeat. Puff puff puff puff. I am the reggae. I have the power to do anything!"

Oh! Yeah! Yeah! Oh Yeah! Yeah! Thanx to the Doctor!

Oh! Yeah! Yeah! Listen to reggae music.. Oh Yeah! Yeah!

Everyday! Thanx to the Doctor! Oh Yeah!
